Besides being Editor-in-chief, Barb also handles the sections on student organizations and Founders Hall building.

A.P.O. Prepares Petition For National Recognition

Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity Chapter of the Newark Campus has announced that petitioning for a national charter is now under way.

When the quota of twenty members is reached, then the service fraternity will be eligible to apply to the national headquarters at Kansas City, Missouri, for national recognition and officially be recognized as a member chapter of the largest college service fraternity in the world.

Petitioning involves carrying out service projects by the forming chapter prior to petitioning, having eligible members pass a test on their understanding of national fraternity rules, and provide national headquarters with a financial statement and draft of its constitution. An outline of future programs must also be included.

It takes about sixty days for the processing of the petition for national recognition.

Ken Secrest, president and one of the original founders of the newly organizing Newark Chapter said, "We have been looking forward to this moment for over a year ever since we first became interested in initiating a chapter of Alpha Phi Omega on this campus."

Mrs. Arnold Grudin, director of Project Step-Up, reports that 85

The eight students reported that if at least fifteen students join, a special evangelical team of Campus Crusade workers from the main OSU campus would come to Newark to give further instruction and training. The students also emphasized that Campus Crusade is a fellowship organization.

If interested in participating in Campus Crusade on the OSUNC, one may talk to Larry Grant, Vera Thiele, Linda Howard, Sharon Moreland, Gloria Vermilion, Elaine Loughner, Lou Van Winkle, or Sue Van Winkle.

CHORALE OFFERS VARIED PROGRAM

The Newark Campus Chorale made its first appearance on the stage of Founders Hall in the evening of February 19, under the direction of Mr. Wallace Nolin. Although the auditorium was rather well filled, there were many students who should have attended this concert, for it was well worth a night out.

The second part of the program was unquestionably the better. It opened with the Randall Thompson "Alleluia," a difficult number at best, with which the a cappella group did a commendable piece of work. However, "The Creation," by Scott, and "Soon-ah Will Be Done," by Dawson, elicited the most enthusiastic response from the audience. Mr. Robert Dorrell effectively narrated the story of the creation in the Scott number while the Chorale alternately punctuated the narrative with choral commentary and hummed accompaniment to the reading of the story. Tonal balance was exceptionally good in both the Scott and Dawson numbers.

It was quite a thrill to hear a group of young men open the program with "Brother, Sing On," by Grieg-McKinney. A Men's Glee Club composed of local talent is a rarity in Newark, and the boys did a commendable job. All parts in this piece blended nicely. The Hassler "Agnus Dei" with the full choir was also given a good reading.

The music selected for this concert was varied, and some of it was quite difficult, a fact which the group should be congratulated for having tackled. With the exception of the Thompson number, the Chorale sang the a cappella program from memory.

Householder Elected

4-H President

Thursday, February 6, The Newark Campus 4-H Club met and elected officers for the year 1969.

The following people were elected: Lee Householder, president; Bill Kilpatrick, vice-president — Program Chairman; Beth Richards, recording secretary — treasurer.

The next meeting was held on Wednesday, February 12, at 7:30 P.M. in room 2096. William Warner showed slides taken in Brazil, while attending an I.F.Y.E. (International Farm Youth Exchange) there last fall.

The 4-H needs members — anyone can join. "We'll take anyone but Circle K rejects," stated Mr. Jezerinac.

WHY NO BLACKTOP—

by Kim Skivington

Why wasn't the Parking Lot blacktopped?

The Newark Campus Parking Lot was not blacktopped because architects were not satisfied with the compaction of soil and also needed to know where drainage problems would arise. Therefore a thin layer of tar and chip was laid down as a temporary substitute to last through the winter.

What planners did not anticipate was the unusually warm and wet January weather we received. The result has been a muddy slush which all who use the parking lot will have to put up with until early summer when serious work can be done on the lot.

Doctor Barnes expressed concern over the state of things as they will be this spring, but added that there is little hope of any immediate remedy because blacktop can be laid only during warm, dry weather.

How Much Is A Reputation Worth?

The other day when I walked into the administrative office I noticed that the large red-and-white-lettered sign reading information was missing. Upon inquiring into the matter, Mrs. Smith told me that it had been stolen.

Curious, I checked with Mr. Lewis Thomas, building maintenance superintendent, to see if there had been any other incidents of petty theft. Mr. Thomas noted that a faculty parking only sign had been taken, plus one restroom sign.

Certainly these small incidents are hardly worth mentioning. The vandal of the signs probably took them home and proudly displays them in his room, boasting to his friends of the courage it took to remove them. He didn't get caught—this time.

Even if the person were caught, his penalty in money would probably be relatively small, BUT—is a ruined reputation worth the cleverness or value of stealing some small public signs?

53 ATTEND INTER-CAMPUS SENATE CONFERENCE

The Inter-Campus Student Senate Conference was held Saturday, February 15 at O.S.U. Newark Campus. Fifty-three delegates from the Lima, Mansfield, Marion and Newark campuses of the Ohio State University participated.

Following registration, Dr. Robert Barnes and Jack Kilpatrick, president of Newark Student Senate, delivered welcoming addresses to the delegates in the auditorium. After representatives toured Founders Hall, they lunched in the student dining room. At 1:00 P.M., the conference reconvened in the auditorium where Dr. Bader, Associate Dean of Students at Ohio State University, spoke about "Student Life in Our Time."

Next the delegates broke up into discussion groups. They discussed problems encountered on their own campuses and offered possible solutions. Topics covered in these sessions included apathy on the part of the students, Governor Rhodes's proposal, and whether the Student Senate has any real power.

Results of each discussion section were summarized before the convention when delegates returned to the auditorium.

The next conference will be held in February on the Mansfield Campus.

Of the fifty people taking part in this conference, only three from each campus had power to vote.

THIRTY-FIVE MEET TO DISCUSS RESIDENT OUTDOOR EDUCATION

by Gary Chaconas

Tuesday, March 18, thirty-five college students met in the dining room of Founders Hall at 10:00 P.M. Usual procedure was dismissed to allow an introduction of interested college students to Resident Outdoor Education.

James T. Russell, Director of Outdoor Education, Newark City School System, told those present, "The purpose of outdoor education is to enrich, vitalize, and complement the contest areas of the school curriculum by first-hand observation and participation."

A slide program of camp activities was presented by Mr. Russell. Cooperation, responsibility, participation, and consideration were placed in a perspective in which both veteran and potential camp counselors will participate. A panel consisting of four voiced and answered questions pertaining to their own personal experiences with Resident Outdoor Education.

Many more college students are needed to act as counselors. For information, contact Pam Fox, Gary Chaconas, Michele Finney, or Phil Gantt.

Dates and time of future meetings will be posted on bulletin boards.

NAZIISM ON RISE

by Denny Cater

This article was taken from a paper that Mr. Cater submitted for English 102. Because of its timely interest and because of information from time to time that comes from West Germany about the rebirth of Nazism there, we decided to share with our readers what Mr. Cater has to say about the situation as he saw it. Sue Massie of the staff, who also lived in Germany for three years, confirms Cater's observations.

I was born in Salzburg, Austria, but have spent most of my years in Munich, Germany. . . . While I was living in Munich, I talked with many young people, most of them university students. They all seemed to have a keen interest in the once great Third Reich. One student in particular interested me; he was Franz Muller, who was in his junior year at Heidelberg University. I invited him to my home one evening and asked him if he would reveal his thoughts about a new Nazi Germany. The moment he started speaking, I sensed that he was voicing the thoughts of more people than just his own. He stated that he realized Adolph Hitler was wrong in trying to eliminate the Jews from Germany and that Hitler's attempt to do so was Nazi Germany's first big mistake. Muller went on to state that one country will never rule the world but that there will always be a threatening country waiting with a dagger in hand to strike out at a neighbor.

Franz told me that the young people of Germany were not seeking world tyranny, but rather a peaceful Nazi Germany that everyone would respect. I asked him his ideas on the new Germany dominating Western Europe. He answered quite frankly that the new Germany will rule the other countries in Europe, but instead of making Hitler's mistake of forcing rule on alien people, the new Germany would re-industrialize other countries and would win the people intellectually over to Nazi rule. As Franz talked for approximately eight hours, I realized that this dream of a new Nazi Germany will become a reality in a few years. I did not stop with Mr. Franz Muller but, instead, went on to interview many other university students. My mother had many friends in the Munich area. I stayed at their homes with young people ranging from sixteen to twenty-one years in age. To my question I received the same answers. A new and great Nazi Germany is on the rise. I felt the tense excitement of this idea as I spoke with German youths. I read about the rise in German editorials. One was entitled "Nazism Is Back." I saw swastika banners hanging at university beer-hall rallies. Almost everyone seemed to be alive with this new excitement.

My last day in Germany was spent at the University of Heidelberg. I spent my last few hours at a student rally with my best friend, Franz Muller. The rally was really unbelievable and consisted of the most spectacular group of students I have seen in my life. Thousands appeared to be there, and the entire group sounded exuberant. After a few inspiring speeches, the crowd burst out in yells and screams and started singing "Deutschland uber Alles."

I believe that there will be a new Nazi Germany, more powerful than ever. The world should keep its eyes open. Deutschland uber Alles means "Germany conquers all."

Hilltoppers Top OSU Titans

By Steve Smith

Trying to end the season on a winning note, the Newark Titans battled to the buzzer before falling to the OU-Chillicothe Hilltoppers, 101-97. The game was played Saturday, February 1, at Slattery Gymnasium.

The Titans were playing the role of spoiler—they had nothing to lose with a 4-13 record, whereas Chillicothe was tied for the league lead and needed a victory to reach the Regional Campus Tournament.

Using the smaller men on the team in starting capacities (Hathaway, Woolard, B. Price, Chaconas, and Kilpatrick), to provide the optimum in speed, the Titans tried a run-and-shoot offense to put the Hilltoppers off balance.

When this failed, Coach Vermilion used Russ Brown, Dave Galbraith, Doug Woods, and Gary Chaconas in a musical-chairs substitution to provide more strength underneath the basket.

Newark cut the large Chillicothe lead to 5 at halftime, 51-46.

The Titans knotted the score at 53-53 after the intermission, but the Hilltoppers quickly built up a ten-point lead and maintained it throughout most of the game.

With 2:10 remaining in the game, and Chillicothe owning a 95-86 lead, the Titans started their final charge of the season. John Woolard hit for two on a twisting layup, but Ron Brooks sank two free throws to give Chillicothe a nine point lead, 97-88, with 1:45 remaining to play.

Dave Galbraith of Newark and Fred Lovely of the Hilltoppers each sank two foul shots and the score stood at 99-90 with just one minute to play.

Gary Chaconas tossed in a free throw, Galbraith popped in a two-pointer, and Chaconas dropped two more free throws to draw Newark within 4, 99-95 with the clock registering 29 seconds.

Galbraith put in a lay up to make the score 99-97 when Chillicothe called a time out. Bob Price fouled Bill Abel in an attempt to get the ball. Abel netted both free throws to ice the Hilltopper victory and a trip to the Tournaments. The final tally was 101-97.

John Woolard and Bob Price led the Titan attack with 20 and 18 points respectively. The three big men—Chaconas, Russ Brown, and Galbraith—scored 16, 12, and 10 markers respectively. Brown and Galbraith pulled down 11 carems apiece.

Jay Cottrill paced Chillicothe with 25 points, while Fred Lovely poured in 21 markers.

The Newark-OSU Titans finish the 1968-69 season with a 4-14 record.

Sharpshooters Defeat Underdogs I

The Sharpshooters defeated the Underdogs I 83 to 56 in the OSU Newark Campus intramural basketball finals Saturday, February 8, at the Licking County YMCA.

Dick Winegardner and Roger Hooper collected twenty-two points each for the Sharpshooters. High-point man for the Underdog team was Walt Fox with sixteen points. Members of the Sharpshooters, who concluded the season with a 7-0 record, included Craig Foster, Dick Winegardner, Mike Hansburger, Mike Rogers, Roger Hooper, John Ridenour, and Dan Stover.

The Underdogs I with a 7-1 record consisted of Brent Snoke, Paul Robinson, Tom Baughman, Don Ryan, Walt Fox, and Terry Tharp.

Sigma Tau Omega and the Buckeyes tied for third place in the intramural contest.

Reggie Pitt, Program chairman, reported that approximately 105 Newark Campus students participated in intramural basketball during the 1968 season. Pitt initiated the twelve (12) week program on October 26, which included a total of eleven (11) team entries. Team records other than those previously mentioned include the Trojans (3-4); Buckeyes (5-1); Chargers (0-5); Circle K (2-4); Underdogs II (0-6); Lincoln Lions (1-5); Phi Alpha Beta (2-4); Sigma Tau Omega (4-1); and the Ti Juana Posse (2-4).

The Student Senate, according to advisor Mr. Armstrong, has decided upon four major activities for spring.

On March 28, the auditorium is to be transformed into a movie theatre, when one of three proposed films ("Harper," "Wait Until Dark," or "Texas Across the River") will be shown there.

Students will be permitted to test their luck, on April 18, at a series of gambling games to be held in the student recreation area. For "safety's sake," play money will be distributed.

A canoe trip will begin in Loudenville on May 25, giving the adventurous-minded a chance to see if they really have that "pioneering spirit."

As a climax to the 1968-69 school year, the traditional spring formal will be held June 7 at Howard Johnson Motor Hotel in Heath.
